Notes

These are just too cute for words.

I've made lots of them not so much for wearing but as a substitute for a bow on the shower gift.

And making these reminded me why I don't like to crochet: all the counting! You'd think a college graduate could count--and stop--at six, per the pattern, without continuing on to seven. And also could count to four, also according to the pattern, without stopping at three. Sigh.
