Notes

I have vague memories of charting out the pattern on graph paper, as I kept getting lost in the unending sea of “block, mesh, mesh, block, block, mesh” in the written-out instructions.

I don't have any scribbles in the margin of my pattern book as to any actual errors, but I probably took my usual copious notes on paper as I worked. I don't think I still have them, but I haven't looked everywhere they could be.

Before I joined the crocheted pieces, I laid them out on some broadcloth to sew a sleeveless underdress.
